PRAYER MATTERS

This week we pray for Daniel and Sandi McDougall, with International Student Ministries, Canada at UVic. Now that the academic year is completed at UVic, most undergraduate students have departed for summer jobs and other opportunities. However, since the McDougalls minister primarily to international students, graduate students and visiting scholars/researchers (most of whom remain at UVic year-round), they continue to engage with folks as usual on campus and in their home. One of their additional roles over the warmer months is spending comparatively more time with UVic's staff, faculty and administration, discerning how the McDougalls can be optimally helpful.

Please pray for those who are encountering the rescuing Jesus for the first time, and especially that their encounter with him would be unhindered by other 'cluttering' influences. Pray too for the McDougalls, and especially that they would be attentive to the Spirit's ever-creative, ever-discerning voice as they meet folks in the academic context.
